Q.1. Define/Answer the following.

a) Define Digital Forensics.
b) State Lockard’s Principle of Exchange with a digital example.
c) Define Chain of Custody.
d) What is a Write-Blocker?
e) Differentiate between HDD and SSD.
f) What is the role of the Operating System?
g) Define Data Carving.
h) What are Input and Output devices? Give two examples each.
i) Explain the importance of Documentation in forensics.
j) What is meant by Evidence Integrity?

Q.2. Answer the following in short

a) Explain the process of handling a digital crime scene.
b) Describe the branches of Digital Forensics with suitable examples.
c) Explain Imaging Techniques in evidence acquisition.
d) What is the difference between Volume and Partition? Why is it important in forensics?
e) Explain the importance of Preservation of evidence in digital investigation.
f) Describe the functions of the Central Processing Unit (CPU)

g) Explain the Acquisition Process you would follow - covering Identification, Acquisition, Labelling & Packaging, Transportation, Chain-of-Custody, Write-Blockers, Imaging, and SOPs.

h) Discuss the importance of documentation, chain of custody, and evidence integrity in ensuring the admissibility of evidence in court.

i) Explain HDD

j) Explain SSD